

Arrivals Project: KS2 Lesson Plan Summary

History This lesson allows students to explore the historical context of global events and enables them to situate it within their local setting. Students are able to see how the movement of people impacts communities and can influence society and have the opportunity to develop their research skills as well as their questioning and analytical skills.	Geography In this session, students are given the opportunity to become more familiar with the location of countries and different ways in which to describe their physical attributes. They are also introduced to the idea of push and pull factors as well as challenging negative and inaccurate stereotypes of people and places.
Maths Students analyse and interpret real life data in order to solve one and two-step problems. They then have the opportunity to present their findings in a variety of ways.	Literacy This lesson plan provides opportunities for learners to ask and answer questions about people's lives and to record this information in the style of a biography.
PSHE In this lesson, students explore ideas relating to identity and complete activities that promote equality and diversity. As a final task individuals can create a piece of writing that positively highlights the diversity of their class, school or community.	P4C A philosophical enquiry is undertaken using ideas of immigration, refuge, identity and belonging as stimuli.
